October 2011

To whom it may Concern,

West African Rescue Association is a privately run emergency response company based in Accra – the capital of Ghana as well as a new subsidiary in Freetown - the capital of Sierra Leone since January 2011. We offer exciting opportunities to candidates who would enjoy the opportunity of working in the challenging environment of Africa. We thought we would share this opportunity to your university should you have any students or qualified persons who may be interested. We would be most grateful if you could place the information in a way so that any interested parties can view this offer.

- Candidates should get in touch with Mrs. Caroline Pearman and send their CV's in English directly to her e-mail address: caroline.pearman@westafrican-rescue.com
- Minimum qualifications are EMT or paramedic

Internship / Training ship Program in Africa

Our company is open and encouraging for any students who have the minimum qualification of an EMT or Paramedic and who may be interested to come to Ghana or Sierra Leone to enjoy the opportunity to work with our team for a short period of time (minimum of 3 months).

Our organization would cover the flights costs and full expenses in our country and in exchange allow them to work on a voluntary basis for the duration of the time with our team.

Please feel free to be in contact directly with us – either the university department itself or allow the individuals themselves to apply for such an opportunity.

We are looking forward to hearing from interested students by e-mail directly.

Kind Regards

Florian Zagel
Managing Director
